Message from Ian

November is always a bit of a solemn month. In it, we remember the sacrifice of the Armed Forces of the United Kingdom and the Commonwealth in acts of war. These remembrance events do not glorify war but seek to unite people of all faiths, cultures, and backgrounds against the horror and suffering that so many continue to face.

The problem for many is that the focus of the remembrance events can be on those who lost their lives in the first and second world wars. The sacrifice of both men and women in these conflicts absolutely deserves our pride and respect. But the direct memory of their sacrifice is rapidly moving into history. So, we also remember members of our armed services who have routinely engaged in conflicts that we have only witnessed on our televisions. Some of these were major conflicts such as the Korean war, the Gulf war, the wars in Bosnia and Kosovo, the war in Iraq and most recently Afghanistan. There are numerous other conflicts where our forces have fought to defend the democratic freedoms of other countries. Many soldiers and civilians lost their lives or were injured in the conflict in Northern Ireland, as well as the terrorist attacks we have suffered in the mainland United Kingdom.

Remembrance isn't focused just on what happened in history but also on something that continues to affect the lives of so many people; for those who have been involved in the violence of war, the trauma doesn't end when the fighting stops. The memory of what they have seen or been required to do is frequently buried deep within them and only emerges with time.

The first thing we can do to remember is buy a poppy. The Royal British Legion who run this charity continues to do amazing work with people whose lives have been affected by war. Wearing a poppy is never compulsory but it is a sign of both remembrance and commitment to those who have given so much. The ex-servicemen I know greatly appreciate those who use this to show their support.

Secondly, you are welcome to attend one of the remembrance events. Within the villages we will hold Remembrance Sunday services at St John's Northington, where we will be joined by the Royal British Legion, and at St Leonard's Church in Cliddesden.

There will also be a service of remembrance on Armistice Day held at the memorial in Preston Candover where we will be joined by the pupils of Preston Candover School. In these services we will remember the sacrifice of our armed forces. We will also pay tribute to the special contribution of families who have lost loved ones with words and hymns, but also with silence as we remember those who gave so much to uphold the things we value most.

Remembrance Sunday 10th November 2024

The annual Service of Remembrance, to which everyone in Farleigh Parish is warmly invited, will be held at All Saints' Church, Dummer, on Sunday 10th November 2024. Children are welcome, but parents are asked to ensure they respect the solemnity of the occasion.

This year the parade will form up at 10.55am at the War Memorial, the church lychgate, for the Act of Remembrance and two minutes silence at 11am. Ordinary members of the Royal British Legion are welcomed to join the parade. The church service will start at about 11.10am.

Anyone wishing to place a cross in the Garden of Remembrance near the War Memorial in memory of a fallen relative or friend is welcome to do so prior to the service.

Sir Crispin Davis has generously agreed to allow the RBL to offer coffee and biscuits in Dummer House after the service.

What an amazing month!

The community at St Leonard's have had a very busy and exciting September! Our cycling team, the "Cliddesden Bikers", raised £100 at the annual Ride and Stride sponsored bike ride for our church and the Hampshire Churches Heritage Trust.

The donations of dried food at our wonderful Harvest Festival raised the equivalent of 118 meals for the Basingstoke Food Bank.

Huge thanks to everyone who donated and took part. Special thanks to Val and Robert for the delicious BBQ at Harvest, and to Sylvia and the Children's Singing Group for their beautiful music.

Come and be part of our community to see what exciting projects and services we have in store for November. Service times are published at the front of the Hill and Dale and there is something for everyone.

We look forward to welcoming you!

Cuckoo Meadow Pre-School

About Cuckoo Meadow Pre-School: We are a small, friendly, pre-school located in the Rathbone Pavilion, North Waltham. The children who attend come from many areas including Oakley, Dummer, Hatch Warren, Kempshott and Beggarwood and all agree the location and wonderful caring staff mean it is more than worth the short journey.

To find out more please contact Jo or Fiona on 01256 398172.

This month the children have been learning nursery rhymes. Lots of fun has been had, creating fluffy sheep, rowing boats and dishes and spoons with googly eyes, helping to develop some lovely fine motor skills.

We have also enjoyed, sensory exploration where the children had a great time exploring different textures and helping to describe them, it was a squishy, squashy, spiky, grassy kind of day.

It just wouldn't be autumn without a few splashy rainy outings and the children have enjoyed lots of fun jumping in puddles and when it hasn't been raining, the children have had a great time outside following chalk directions on the bikes and popping bubbles. A fantastic way to learn our numbers as we counted the bubbles popped between fingers and good sharing took place as the machine was passed from child to child.

Calling all current and former pre-schoolers and their parents!

Fiona Cotterell and Jo Harman are celebrating 30 years at Cuckoo Meadow, and to mark the occasion we will be holding a presentation at a Quiz Night at The Fox at North Waltham. The Quiz Night will be held on Thursday 21st November.

Nicki Palmer. March 1947- August 2024

Nicki arrived off a boat from New Zealand in 1968 and hit swinging sixties London with the courage and enthusiasm that has marked her whole life. She was brave to be leaving home. I know others here did the same and made that journey round the world in the days before the technological explosion. Imagine a world without mobiles! What a relief in some ways but it made communication much more random and difficult. In 1969 it cost in current money terms £19 for one minute on the telephone to New Zealand. The calls were therefore necessarily limited, and she missed her parents and much-loved brother, Jerry. But she was 21, very pretty, talented, great fun and was a breath of fresh air. She never went back to live in New Zealand but got stuck in to discarding a New Zealand accent, making lots of good, close and supportive English friends who have remained great friends, and embracing the London fashion scene.

Her hospitable nature naturally led her to being a warm and generous hostess, and she became an excellent cook who made all food look delicious as well as tasting delicious. Nicki was a loving, kind, loyal and thoughtful friend. Her thoughtfulness was demonstrated in her awareness of anyone in trouble, and she would call round with a beautiful, simple bunch of flowers, or a delicious bowl of something which was irresistible. Her presents were always wrapped in brown paper and tied with green string. She must have made some supplier very happy. Her love of the outdoors led her to take up salmon fishing with enthusiasm, and that enthusiasm remained absolutely genuine in the wind and torrential rain. She was rewarded with a very respectable fish. And in the evening, she would play a highly competent game of bridge, while claiming to be hopeless.

Nicki was talented and creative. Trained as a graphic designer, she became a highly competent and creative garden designer. She had great vision and was a real expert on plants. Her passion for detail made anything she designed a work of art. I am sure she used nail scissors on some parts of her garden. And I really don't think she bought into the theory that colours in nature cannot clash. The flowers in Manor Cottage Garden are wonderfully subtle and blended.

Her move to Ellisfield was an outstanding success. She has made her cottage and garden really lovely. She made many new friends and enormously appreciated the tremendous community spirit. And she loved this church. She regularly did the flowers, and I know she would have been thrilled by the wonderful display at her funeral. She had a deep Christian faith which brought her much solace in difficult times.

She was a devoted aunt, and godmother, taking great interest in children around the UK and the world. But her great passion in life was her family. Eloise, Jono, Toe, how she loved you all. What pride she took in your achievements, how she empathised with you on the down days. One of her great joys were those long-distance telephone calls which brought Australia and South Africa just a bit closer.

You gave her grandchildren, and one of the best presents she had was the gadget which displayed an ever-rolling montage of photographs. I don't think it was ever off, and, as it is distinctly mesmerising, happily they are nearly all old enough to remember what an exceptional grandmother they had. And her bravery, which was such a part of her, manifested itself as she coped with her increasing ill health. She liked to be on top of things. She could not get on top of her health. She was determined to remain in control. Nicki died exactly as she would have wanted, in her bed, in her house, having had a magical Summer with most of her grandchildren. Her garden looked lovely. She was at peace. So, Nicki, we celebrate your life – you leave a big gap. Thank you for your friendship.

Cliddesden WI October 2024

At our October meeting we enjoyed a talk from Joyce Meader on the History of Knitting from the 1800s to 1945.

Joyce presented knitted garments and patterns, this included a knitted corset cover, designed to protect valuable dresses from the stays of a corset. There were finely knitted garments for women, men and children including socks, shawls with knitted lace edging jumpers, underwear, swimsuits and dresses for babies. All beautifully knitted with very fine yarn and needles.

She also explained that a lady's maid would be expected to knit new lace at night to embellish their mistress' dresses.

The members remembered wearing swimming costumes which sagged and became very revealing when wet, this was common until the 1950s.

Joyce also explained that old patterns were designed for women of the time who were much smaller and when she reproduces garments, she often has to make several versions to fit the modern woman.

We also discussed plans for our Christmas meetings including the planned wreath making workshop on 30th November.

Our next meeting is on Monday 18th November, we have invited a speaker on being a boy evacuee.

If you would like to join us for a taster meeting or the wreath making workshop, please do contact me at cliddesdenssec@hampshirewi.org.uk

September air ambulance raffle result

The lucky winner of the £100-worth of store goods was our near-neighbour, Helen Rundall. Including the match-funding from CVS reserves, a total of £1394 has been sent to Hampshire and Isle of Wight Air Ambulance. Please continue your support by saving your aluminium drinks cans for the big yellow Heli-Ali-Tin-Bin outside the store. The bin will be emptied by our very own volunteer Seumas, who is also involved with HIOWAA. The air ambulance is totally publicly funded and receives vital additional cash for the recycled cans.

This term's seasonal changes have brought about many opportunities for our preschool children to learn about the world around us. With a focus on hands-on experiences, children build their understanding of the environment and develop key skills in areas like observation, creativity and social interaction.

An Autumn sensory tray is an interactive activity designed to engage children's senses, offering a multi-dimensional learning experience that support various areas of development. As children explore, they often ask about what they are experiencing, offering valuable communication opportunities. This provides opportunities to introduce new vocabulary and encourages descriptive language. Manipulating small objects helps children to develop fine motor skills. Grasping, pinching, pouring and scooping are activities which enhance dexterity and hand-eye coordination.

Through sorting, counting and comparing objects, children practice early maths skills; they might group by size or count how many objects they have, supporting early numeracy and classification.

The children have also been learning about nocturnal and diurnal animals. We have been sorting animals into each category, and learning where different animals live and how their daily routines relate to their habitats. This activity fosters curiosity about wildlife, helping children understand that animals have unique ways of living and adapting to their environments.

Candover Valley Preschool is a vibrant and nurturing learning environment. Please contact us if you would like to enquire about a place for your child. Places are currently available for Autumn 2025.

Highways Updates: From Cllr Lulu Bowerman, Cabinet Member for Highways and Waste (excerpt)

We know that work to make improvements to the roads can sometimes be inconvenient to road users, so we appreciate people's patience as we keep up the momentum on this vital work. We also wish to thank everyone who has reported road defects to us - such as potholes and other issues affecting the condition of the county's roads. Please continue to do so, because when you report a road issue to us, it means we can act more quickly to fix the problem and make our roads stronger. You can do this via the OurHants app (which can be downloaded from the Apple or Google play store) or online via the County Council's Website.

HCC Flooding Toolkit

I'm delighted that the proposals for a community toolkit to assist Hampshire's residents and communities identify the risk of, prepare for and mitigate the effect of flooding has been taken forward by Hampshire County Council.

We started this work when the exceptional rain last winter threatened flooding in many areas of the County. Great to see it now deliver in time for this autumn's rains.

To help everyone across Hampshire, we've developed an online guide providing you with lots of information about flooding including which organisations have responsibility for flooding, your responsibilities as a property and/or landowner and advice on how to prepare for flood incidents. The new Community Toolkit can be downloaded from our website here <https://www.hants.gov.uk/.../envir.../flooding/managing-risk>

Use the links below for flood risk information and to sign up for alerts:

 Check your flood risk for the next five days <https://www.gov.uk/check-flooding>

 Sign up for flood warnings by phone, text or email <https://www.gov.uk/sign-up-for-flood-warnings>

 Check your flood risk over a longer period from rivers, the sea, surface water, reservoirs and groundwater <https://www.gov.uk/check-long-term-flood-risk>

 Call the Environment Agency's 24-hour Flood line on 0845 988 1188 to listen to recorded information on the latest warnings and predictions, or to speak to an operator for more general information.

CHECK YOUR FLOOD RISK AHEAD OF WINTER RAINFALL

Juliet Henderson Hampshire County Councillor

Hampshire County Councillor report

Savings Programme 2025

Please find attached my October report. I wanted to highlight the fact that you will be seeing a fair bit of coverage about the Savings Programme SP25. The consultation took place earlier this year. I know the retention of HWRCs (household waste recycling centres) and school crossing patrols, maintenance of vital community transport routes and the continued provision of homelessness grants to the end of their planned contract term are important to residents. I am continuing to push for continuation of these vital services.

The Leader Nick Adams-King stated: “Before making any decisions, my cabinet colleagues and I will carefully consider the officers’ recommendations in the context of the consultation responses, the feedback from the select committees and any deputations made to us.”

I will be making these points at the Cabinet meeting on the 14th October.

Winter Fuel Allowance;

The Labour Government has recently made the decision to restrict the Winter Fuel Payment to only pensioners in receipt of Pension Credit or other means-tested benefits

HCC in a motion to full council resolved to:

Bring forward a Council-led local awareness campaign to alert those eligible of Pension Credit which in some respects will help access to the Winter Fuel Payment for those most in need.

- Request that the Council Leader write to the Chancellor of the Exchequer, urging a review of the decision to means-test the Winter Fuel Payment and asking the government to ensure that vulnerable pensioners, particularly those who do not claim Pension Credit, are protected from fuel poverty.
- Commit the Council to signing the ‘Save the Winter Fuel Payment for Struggling Pensioners’ petition being run by Age UK and to encourage all members to sign the petition themselves.
- Encourage local efforts to promote Pension Credit uptake through council services and partnerships with local charities and community organisations to ensure that all eligible pensioners in Hampshire are supported in claiming their entitlement.
- Make the commitment that all Hampshire County Council Libraries are designated under the warm spaces scheme for the winter of 2024/2025

Benefice Recipes

Hello all, what is happening to time I feel like we're in a Star Trek time loop. Oh well heading into more wet weather with bursts of sunshine. We now have the lingering smell of Eau De Damp Dog and Parfum De Wet Football Boots to look forward to. A good cover up for these stinkers is a bunch of Lilies from Lidl, I have to split them up round the house as they are so strong, but they last for ages. A hasty search found this month's recipe, one that will go brilliantly with all things Porky.

Swede, Leek and Apple Bake.

Serves 4. Oven set to 180c/gas 4

Ingredients

25g butter plus extra for greasing
2 Leeks finely shredded
4 Large Sage leaves
75ml White Wine or Apple Juice
1 Swede (800g-1kg unpeeled weight) peeled cut in half lengthways, then very finely sliced.
2 Apples cored, halved and thinly sliced
50g Cheddar Cheese

Method

Melt the butter in a large frying pan and fry the leeks on a very low heat for 12 minutes, stirring now and then.
Add the sage and wine or juice
Cook for 2 minutes then season.
Layer the swede, apple and leeks in a baking dish, finishing with swede.
Cover with foil and bake for 45 minutes.
Then remove the foil sprinkle with the cheddar and bake for a further 15 minutes until golden brown.

THE 2024 CLIDDSDEN PANTOMIME
Cliddesden Village Hall
“Camelot The Panto” by Ben Crocker
Friday 13TH & Saturday 14TH December 8.00pm
Saturday 1.30pm Matinee Note new Matinee start time!

Doors open 30 mins before the performance begins.
Come and enjoy a traditional pantomime featuring the talented cast of the Cliddesden Players! Suitable for children and adults alike, in fact anyone with a sense of humour who is looking forward to a lot of laughs, a chance to boo and hiss at the baddies, whistle at the gorgeous Dames and enjoy a magical start to the festive season.

You will be whisked off to Camelot Castle, Merlin’s laboratory, a haunted hotel and a shrieking bog – our scene changes are legendary! Meet the black-hearted Queen of the Night, Valerin the Vicious (and his Mum), Princess Guinevere, Prince Arthur, Merlin, Connie Clatterbottom the royal nurse and Teddy, a sweet natured bear, amongst a cast of well, I lost count!

Will nasty Valerin manage to steal Guinevere away from Arthur? How will we know where Garlon the Invisible Knight is? Can Merlin conjure up a love potion to ensure a happy ending?
You will just have to buy a ticket to find out!

Box Office: Adults £10 Children (2-16) £5*

 In order to maintain emergency escape compliance at all times, no mats or sitting on the floor will be allowed in front of the stage. At the Matinee the front rows of seating will comprise of “children only” seats to ensure that their view of the production is not compromised. The next rows of seating shall be allocated to their accompanying adults. At evening performances all children must be seated with adults.

Information on how to pay will be given when tickets are ordered. Please note that no seats can be reserved without payment.

Cliddesden Primary School

It was so lovely to see the children again at the start of September and to welcome our new foundation stage children and parents.

Congratulations to Kian, Joseph, Charlotte and Elsie in Year 6 who are our new Junior Leadership Team. They were selected after a written application and interview and competition was high. The duties of our Junior Leadership Team are to be ambassadors for the school, to be good role models to others and to support the Headteacher in school procedures where appropriate.

Some of our other Year 6 roles of responsibility in school are:

Our House Captains who have the responsibility to tally up house points each week and present in our weekly achievement assembly. With their house staff member, they hold house assemblies once a half term. They also lead their houses in intra-school sports events including our annual sports day

Our Year 6 Sports Leaders this year are Joseph, Charlotte, Kian, Taylor, Sarah and James. They all now have their special sports leader tops, and they have been taking turns helping our specialist PE teacher, Debs, in Friday PE lessons giving the younger children support with their lessons. You may, on a couple of occasions, have seen children from Cliddesden around the village.

Make Burnett vinegar for French dressing and mix with cream cheese for dips.

For medicinal uses make an infusion of the leaves to drink warm to reduce fever and stimulate kidney activity.

To cleanse and refine the skin make an infusion of the leaves or pop the leaves in a muslin bag and treat yourself to a wonderful refreshing bath.

What's been happening?

Thursday 26th September – Cliddesden Millenium Hall 1930 for 1945 start
Tim Woodland – Planting and Growing Winter Bulbs

A return visit from Tim, this time for our winter bulbs instead of summer.

And we weren't disappointed! A well attending evening despite the weather, Tim's passion for his craft is obvious with the huge variety of bulbs he describes, and the accumulated knowledge he has about them all. Bulbs were purchased, questions answered, and hopefully everyone went home having gained something from the evening.

Thank you to everyone who came.

What's coming up?

Thursday 28th November – Cliddesden Millenium Hall 1930 for 1945 start
AGM and Social Evening

The years update, food, wine, and quiz.

Need I say more?

Well, yes, this time I must.

The Horticultural Society exists for the benefit of everyone, young and old, novice or expert.

Whether you are like Winnie-The-Pooh with 100 acres and a wood, or just pop a few things in pots to see what will happen. Even if everything you plant turns up its roots and goes to plant heaven!

Do you have a penchant for flower arranging, cookery or handicrafts?

Or do you have children who you would like to get out in the garden more?

Come along to one of the meetings or visit the Spring or Summer show.

Email Seumas Foster on Seumas@cropfosters.co.uk for full details or have a chat with any of the committee.

The programme of meetings for next year will soon be announced – pop the dates in your diary and have an evening out with us.

Here's wishing you all a very Happy Christmas, a restful and blessed New Year, and may your gardens always bring you joy.

Thanks for putting up with me ☐

Hello From Claire

And farewell. After 6yrs it is time for someone else to bring you the news and titbits for the Horticultural Society. Thank-you for reading, and hopefully enjoying all the random things that have filled the spaces.

Who will taking over? I don't know; it will be decided at the AGM. So, if you are a budding scribe, enjoying finding out about all sorts of things to do with plants, gardens and how to help them grow, come along to the AGM, wave your hand in the air and cry 'ME ME ME!!!' As with all things to do with the society, it is voluntary, and it is fun.

So, for my final offering, covering November and December, let's tuck the fleece around our less hardy shrubs, pop the pots of delicats into the greenhouse, lament about clearing the leaves (again, and again, and again), grab the planner and work out what marvels we can bring about in the Spring.

I have chosen a more unusual herb for this month, planted in knot gardens in Tudor times, and taken by the Pilgrim Fathers to America where it became naturalised. Native to the Mediterranean region, used to flavour wines and taken as a tonic tea, please bid welcome to Salad Burnett.

Botanical name: Poterium sanguisoba Family: Rosaceae
A low-growing plant, the flower stems reach only 30cm/12" high, with coarsely toothed leaflets, despite its rather delicate appearance is a hardy perennial and will remain green through milder winters.

The leaves have a mild cucumber taste, and the small round red flowers will appear for around 3 months during the summer.

Grown only from seed, plant during late Spring or early Autumn in good soil, Salad Burnett will readily self-sow if the flowers are left on. However, for a plentiful supply of leaves, remove the flowers and plant fresh each year as the young leaves are more tender.

Chop the freshly picked leaves into salads, use liberally in place of parsley, or mix with raw vegetables.

It will also add a fresh flavour to creamy sauces, egg dishes and white meats.

In September, our Year 6 children took part in Bikeability. This is a cycling proficiency course that we book every year. The children began by cycling in the playground where they learned how to check that their bikes are safe and how to stop, practice how to look for traffic and the rules of the road. They then progressed onto the roads in the village and learned how to ride safely, who has priority at junctions and on the road and what the different road signs and markings mean. The sun shone all week and the children thoroughly enjoyed their time outside and learning how to be proficient cyclists.

At the beginning of October, Year 1 and Year 2 ventured through the village as part of their Geography learning adventure. Along the way, they paused to observe and discuss the human and physical features around them, noticing things like houses, a church, roads, lanes, fields and a pond. They also thought about the village's history, considering why certain things have changed over the years and how these changes have shaped the village today.

For our Harvest Sale, we collected 79kg of tinned and packet foods which were delivered to Basingstoke Food bank.

In our cake, bread, fruit and vegetable sale we raised a fantastic amount of £170 that we will send to Children in Need.

Our Year 6 helpers were amazing helping to set up and price the goods. Year 5 children supported our youngest children with their purchases.

This is a great opportunity for the children to learn some independence by choosing and paying for their goods. Everyone thoroughly enjoyed the sale.

Harvest—Emma Ilsley

Not so long ago, I was the one reading the ‘In the Field’ articles intrigued by the agricultural work being undertaken by the team at Farleigh Wallop, so it felt a real turn of the tables when I was asked to contribute to the Hill and Dale. My name is Emma, and this has been my second harvest with the farming team at Farleigh Wallop Estate.

My love for agriculture was borne from my grandfather, Dennis Ilsley, and his career with JCB and his ties with the Estate over the years. Many hours we spent together, and from a young age I spent many a summer afternoon sat in the combine with Clifford, who is still our combine driver, and has been on the farm for a long time. As I grew older, I remember saying to them both, ‘I’d love to drive a tractor like that one day’ never thinking for one moment I would indeed one day be working alongside Clifford and Rose as colleagues. Although sadly my grandfather passed away before my time on the farm began in 2023, I will always be proud to think I have followed in his footsteps in this regard.

Harvest 2024 began in the middle of July, with the oilseed rape being the first crop harvested, which returned a pleasing average yield and set us up with positive spirits for the weeks ahead of us. As I write this article in late September, all of our rapeseed has now left the farm and will continue its life in Germany as sustainable hydraulic oil. Next to follow were our cereals: winter barley, winter wheat and spring barley. We are delighted that our milling wheat will head to the food chain and our barley to supply both distilling at Bimber Whiskey in London, and also for brewing for beers. There was a small break before we were able to harvest our beans in mid-September, but we were pleased with their eventual yield, following wet and mild conditions which have been ideal for the crop.

All the while the three of us were engaged in harvesting, our drillman Andy was preparing the freshly harvested stubble land for the 2025 harvest. Using a low disturbance subsoiler, Andy was aerating and alleviating soil compaction from last year’s wet winter, without damaging the structure of the soil itself. This has been undertaken across a large proportion of our land now, with a cultivator running a secondary pass over the sub-soiled land to create a good tilth on the surface of the soil ready for drilling. All the while, we have stitched in time for general land husbandry, such as mowing of the field verges, to reset the margins. We have also introduced flower margins across the farm, which have graced us with wonderful sunflower displays. Now that harvest has drawn to a close, the four of us are concentrated on cultivating and drilling – Rose operating the subsoiler, myself on the cultivator, Andy operating the main drill and Clifford operating a secondary drill where required, and the sprayer.

The Sunflower – Seumas Foster

Sunflowers are probably the most eye catching flowers, that never look anything less than spectacular when the bright yellow petals and round black centres stand out so brightly.

Although not native to the UK, they have become more common here as part of wild bird and pollinator seed mixtures, but as they prefer more warmth than we have been able to offer they have been a marginal crop. Global warming and breeding of more suitable varieties has opened the market to some extent, and curious farmers will investigate new crops.

The sight of Sunflower fields in France has always been the sign that the holiday is starting. And V. van Gogh certainly got some inspiration from them.

But the sunflower has a big Achilles heel, on one hand the flower is a masterpiece of colour, design and attractive to pollinators, as well as producing a useful oil seed, while on the other hand it doesn’t like English autumns!

The flower turns up to the sun and follows it through the day, the French name for the plant is ‘tournesol’, and the individual flowers are packed in with mathematical precision in the most efficient way, hinting at eons of evolution.

For sunflowers grown in the UK once flowering has finished problems can start. The seed head stops following the sun and droops to face down to ripen. The ideal conditions for ripening would be a hot, dry autumn but the last autumns have not met the sunflower ripening criteria!

The plant is now presenting the back of the flower head to our autumn weather. The seed head can get very soggy and quite quickly Botrytis fungus will set in as a grey mould. This can effectively destroy the seed head so there is no seed to harvest. All that work only to have the seed snatched away in a misty, moist autumn!

However keep growing them for the flowers, sometimes the seed will feed the birds, and there will still be competitions to grow the tallest sunflower, and the sight of the yellow and black flowers will brighten any summers day.

We have thus far drilled our oilseed rape, and our cover crops ahead of Spring Barley. Such cover crops aid with retention of nutrients and organic matter in the soil, and contribute to low soil disturbance cultivations, which are a feature of modern farming.

In my final few weeks with the team at Farleigh, we will continue with our efforts to cultivate and drill our cereals ahead of the winter. Weather conditions have been challenging, but we will continue to progress where we can and to remind ourselves that all farms are facing these challenges!

I wish to express my many thanks to the team at Farleigh for hosting me for my second harvest – it has been a pleasure to work with a fantastic group of people so dedicated to their work.

Hill and Dale Subscriptions

You will receive an envelope for the annual subscription of Hill and Dale in the December/January issue. If you pay by BACS, please ensure you put your name, H&D and then the initial of the village you live in. (In this case D or Dum). Hannah, the Honorary Treasurer and I are still sorting out 2024's subscriptions! We both have very busy lives as volunteers on several committees so your help would be very much appreciated.

All Saints Church

At our October Sunday Special, Michael Hill-King gave the second part of his talk about the fabric of All Saints, this time encompassing the woodwork. As many know, we have one of the oldest wooden pulpits in the UK from which both John Wesley and George Whitefield preached. (Dummer is mentioned profusely in John Wesley's diaries and George Whitefield's name was changed to Whitfield in America). Michael pointed out how much had changed over the years, the extension of the gallery for example. Thank you, Michael, for such and informative talk.

Our next Sunday Special is on Sunday November 3rd at 11:15 am when the North Waltham Art Historian, Wayne Jefferson, will give an illustrated talk on The Life of Mary using Fra Angelico's altar piece of the Annunciation as the focus.

Watch out for our poster invitation to our Christmas services.
