A message from our new Rector—Jennifer Wright

On Monday the 15th September, the day of my installation service had finally arrived, and what a service it turned out to be!

My many thanks go to all who attended the service at St John's Northington to support my new ministry in becoming the new Rector of your parishes and thanks to all who were unable to attend but sent such kind, supportive messages.

It was a wonderful service filled with much love and joy. I was humbled by the presence of so many people from my previous parishes, who eventually arrived back home at 2am, and delighted to be supported by my friends, the furthest travelling over 500 miles.

I have had many messages asking that I relay their thanks to you all for such a warm welcome.

My daughters Emily, Lucinda, Alice, Jessica and I, would also like to give our sincere thanks for such a wonderful welcome, we are very much looking forward to settling into the parishes.

I would like to take this opportunity to thank all the members of the churches that were involved in getting us to this point. I know that many hours will have been spent throughout the interregnum process and many meetings held. I hope I serve you well in return.

It may take some time, but I look forward to meeting you all. Whether you come to church or not, please do feel free to get in touch.
Jennifer

Church Clean Up—St Marys, Preston Candover

The warm summer has allowed our resident spiders to proliferate with abandon, and St Mary's now boasts a fine array of cobwebs. We would like to gently remove what we can, along with dust and other debris and are planning a general church clean up to have the church sparkling in time for Remembrance Sunday.

If you could spare half an hour or so, please come and help us. If you bring your energy and dusters etc., we will provide coffee and biscuits.

St Mary the Virgin, Preston Candover, Saturday 25th October, 10.00am-ish until we have finished. If you are busy that day, please do feel you can help whenever it is convenient for you. I will leave a list of what needs to be done by the pulpit.

We hope to see lots of you there! Thank you in advance, Anne.

PS Warning - we plan to tackle the churchyard once the majority of the leaves have fallen!

St James, Wield. The Wallop tomb, continued.

In the September Oxdrove Nicolas Riall gave us an expert description of the remarkable Tudor tomb of William Wallop which is an unusual feature in such a small village church.

He mentions, in passing, the “effusive elegy” in the epitaph above the tomb.

What is particularly interesting about the epitaph is that it refers almost exclusively to the life of William’s uncle, Sir John Wallop who was a member of the Privy Chamber of King Henry VIII and a Knight of the Garter. The epitaph tells us that Sir John was the Admiral of a navy and Captain of 1000 adventurers against the French. He served against the Moors for the King of Portugal (sic). He was General at the siege of Landarcy. He was sent as ambassador to France, to the King of Naples, to Emperor Charles Vth and to the King of the Romans, He was the Captain of the castle of Calais and Marshall to the county of Guines.

The epitaph ends rather lamely with the information that “this William” (who is, after all, the actual occupant of the tomb) was a Justice of the Peace and thrice mayor of Southampton.

Incidentally, Sir John was buried in Guines, a small town outside Calais. Brian Collins, Churchwarden (Rtd)

Swarraton and Northington WI

MONTHLY NEWSLETTER - September 2025

After a short membership meeting covering events and finances for the group the speaker for the afternoon Anita Ebdon was introduced.

Anita runs Hampshire Hawk Walks which offers unique interactive experiences with hawks, she arrived at the hall accompanied by five of her birds, three hawks and two owls. She gave an interesting talk about each bird covering how she acquired them and their care and feeding, explaining that she had to weigh the birds every day to determine the amount of food they would be given as this was crucial to keeping them slightly hungry so they would return to her when flying around.

Anita's talk was accompanied by Barney the adult owl "talking!" and at the end she introduced a baby owl that she was rearing. She assured us that all the birds were bought from licensed breeders that rear birds imprinted on human handlers.

She was warmly thanked by Cara Marshall and everyone agreed that it was an interesting and enjoyable talk.

The Alresford Show Saturday 6th September Our WI helped in the tea tent at the show this year from 12.30 to 2.30. The members helping were Julia Barber, Rosemary Bligh, Lizzie Laird, Felicity Mathews, Gill Graham Maw, Kate Norrie, and Vera Smith. There were lots of customers who enjoyed the drinks and cakes, and we were praised for being the best refreshments at the show!

Sewing Group A reminder that the sewing sessions will be held at 2pm at Old Alresford Village Hall on the third Tuesday of every month.

Future talks and Events Some interesting speakers have been arranged for later in the year such as Dream Interpretations, A Festive Christmas Tea plus the ever-popular Lasagne Lunch in January 2026!

The next meeting at Swarraton & Northington Village Hall is at 2pm on Tuesday 7th October 2025 with a talk titled "A Personal History of the Theatre Royal - Drury Lane" by Pete Allen.

Tea hostesses - Nancy Brooke and Charlotte Porter

Walking with Wildlife, Robert Bryant

We've been helping to survey dormouse footprint tunnels, set up along a hedgerow here at Newhouse Farm, Northington Down, by the local Farming and Wildlife Advisory Group (FWAG). Hazel dormice were once quite common, but loss of habitat has placed them on the vulnerable list.

They're quite endearing creatures being golden brown with large black eyes and a long bushy tail. Being mainly nocturnal tree dwellers, they are rarely seen in daylight. During early autumn, they forage for fruits, berries and nuts as they fatten up for their long hibernation. Hazelnuts are a great favourite which they open by chewing a neat round hole with smooth edges, unlike the raggedy-edged tooth-marks of nuts chewed by wood mice.

Unlike squirrels, dormice rarely cross open ground, so their presence is an indicator of a well-wooded landscape within a network of mature hedgerows.

The footprint tunnels, twenty of them, made of black plastic, were each fixed, chest high, at 15m intervals along the length of this leafy field boundary. Being open ended, with a wooden insert, a lining of white paper and fresh ink pads at each entrance, any foraging small mammal would leave a trail of inky footprints within.

Hazel dormice have characteristic triangular footpads which distinguishes them from the tracks of wood mice for example. The survey takes place at fortnightly intervals over a 10-week period covering August and September. During each visit the ink pads and paper are refreshed.

The field boundary here consists of a row of mature oaks, ash trees, and a sweet chestnut. Many of the trunks are swathed with ivy, rising above a dense understorey. On the sunny side there's a fine display of autumnal fruits and nuts.

There are blackberries and elderberries, large quantities of sloes, and tiny wild green apples. The hawthorns and hollies are heavy with berries; rose hips gleam and a red necklace of bryony beads winds through the hedge. Masses of acorns crunch underfoot.

At the time of writing the survey is still underway. Are there dormice here? We hope so.

Living in the Past, a Brief History of Chilton Candover. Part 1

It is not surprising that Chilton Candover and its surrounding area has always been a popular place to live. There is certainly evidence of occupation around the village from the Neolithic ((around 4,100 to 2,500 BC) onwards. This was the time when farming started to be practiced alongside traditional hunting and gathering and, the valley, with its natural spring and the clear Candover stream, together with its geology of Upper Chalk with some clay and flint deposits, offered early inhabitants' fertile soil for crops, water for everyday needs, and plenty of building materials. Neolithic people left their mark. There are remains of long barrows, their burial monuments, one to the west of Spiers Lane and one in Preston Candover, close to the chapel remains. These were built from the early 4th millennium BC and it is thought (and backed by recent DNA research)

Neolithic scraper found locally

SUR-4FAA28

Occupation continues into the Bronze Age, made clear to us by the presence of burial monuments (barrows), within the valley, two of which you can see if you walk towards Wield along the Ox Drove. There are others recorded in both Preston and Brown Candover. These were used for a small number of individuals unlike the Neolithic long mounds. Bronze Age barrows are classified as bowls, bells, saucers or ponds, but the Candover ones are bowl barrows, a mound with a surrounding ditch (now invisible). They are often in a group, a cemetery if you like.

The Bronze Age was marked by the onset of metal work. Bronze, an alloy of tin and copper, was used to cast axes and swords. This heralded the beginning of more complex societies with marked hierarchical structures.

A Well-Preserved Bronze Age Barrow

Occupation continued into the Iron Age, dating from 900 BC until the Roman Invasion of AD 43. Iron ore was more accessible than tin and copper, and, importantly, iron was stronger. It became the metal of choice and with that society became even more complex, competition increasing over land and resources. Society also became heavily tribal with the local tribes for Chilton Candover being the Atrebates (based at Silchester) and the Belgae (based at Winchester).

There are a few local landscape features recorded from the Iron Age. A banjo enclosure, named for the shape, use unclear but possibly for livestock corralling, a Little Woodbury enclosure (a small round house), and also some field systems on the downs. An Iron Age ring ditch has also been discovered during the excavations at Stanchester, predating the Roman occupation there.

Other material evidence includes a small 'quarter stater' coin which has connections with Gaul, likely through trading links in this complex society, and a brooch fragment from the later Iron Age.

Independent Voice for Oakley & The Candovers

Hello, my name is Alex Rowley. I have lived in Oakley since 2020, and over that time I've become increasingly involved in our community. Next May I will be running as an independent candidate to represent Oakley & The Candovers on Basingstoke and Deane Borough Council.

Through involvement with Oakley Community Association, Neighbourhood Watch, and serving on Oakley and Deane Parish Council, I have seen first-hand the strengths of our communities. I have also seen how hard it can be for communities when responsibilities are spread across county, borough, and parish councils, and how much persistence it takes to make things happen.

I believe local government should be about listening first, acting locally, and working with residents to solve problems. Running as an independent means I will not be tied to party politics – I'll be free to focus on what really matters here.

Over the coming months I'll be talking with as many of you as possible about your priorities. This is about people-powered politics: not decisions made about us, but decisions made with us.

I will be hosting a campaign launch soon to bring neighbours together and talk about our priorities. In the meantime, if you'd like to get in touch, I'd love to hear from you.

Candover Valley Store

community made

Community support makes a real difference

Over the past year, residents of the Candover Valley have once again shown the generosity and spirit that make this area so special. Thanks to your kindness and involvement, together we have been able to support two vital causes: the Basingstoke Food Bank and the Hampshire and Isle of Wight Air Ambulance.

Supporting families in need

Monetary donations from the community have enabled Candover Valley Store to purchase supplies for the Basingstoke Food Bank throughout the year.

By buying the items most urgently required, we have been able to ensure that help reaches those who need it most. In total, these contributions have provided the equivalent of 1,200 meals for local families over the past 12 months.

HAMPSHIRE AND
ISLE OF WIGHT
AIR AMBULANCE

Raising funds for the air ambulance

Preston Candover has also played its part in the regional "Heli-Ali Tin Bin" scheme, which collects aluminium cans for recycling. Together, the network has gathered 11 tonnes of aluminium so far this year, raising an impressive £10,000 for Hampshire and Isle of Wight Air Ambulance. In July alone, 2.3 tonnes of cans raised £1,722.09. These funds help to keep this life-saving service in the air.

Whether you have contributed financially to the Food Bank, dropped a can into the Tin Bin, or simply shopped at the store, you have played a part in these successes. Every small action adds up, and these results are a clear reminder of what can be achieved when a community comes together.

We extend heartfelt thanks to everyone who has been involved. With continued support, we can build on these achievements and keep making a difference together.

Candover Valley Gardening Club

In August, we had a very interesting trip to Longstock to view their collection of Buddleias. After a difficult year, some of the plants were suffering from lack of water but Peter Moore was still able to show us over ninety different varieties.

Having had some wonderful garden visits during the summer months, we are now back in Preston Candover Village Hall for our monthly meetings.

On 16th October Claire Mitchell will be talking about 'Gardening for Climate Change'. Claire – The Gardening Editor – has 20 years' experience and in her words 'I have a strong eye for design, a passion for living sustainably and a belief that gardening is for everyone, regardless of skills, ability and background. I love making things simple, easy and effective for modern living.'

Our indoor meetings are held at 7.30pm in Preston Candover Village Hall on the third Thursday of the month from September to April. In the summer months we visit some beautiful gardens. If you would like to join us at any time, guests are very welcome for a small fee and we always welcome new members for an annual subscription of only £15 per person.

NHS Cervical Screening Programme – Digital results launching September 2025

The NHS plans to start sending results from the NHS Cervical Screening Programme, utilising the NHS App.

In September, those who have negative test results will be notified of this by an NHS App message. It will also appear as an NHS App notification. If the NHS App message isn't read within 72 hours, a letter will be sent as a failsafe.

Abnormal result letters will continue, for the time being, to be delivered by post.

This change follows the successful rollout of digital invitations and reminders in June 2025, where since the launch, 9 out of every 10 invitations are being sent digitally, with the remainder being sent by post.

Important actions for patients:

We would be grateful for patients continued support in downloading the NHS App & having notifications turned on: www.nhs.uk/nhs-app/

❑ Important Notice to All Patients - Medication Delivery Service Ending

Final delivery date: 31st October 2025

Preston Candover Post Office: Final delivery date 24th October. Please note all medications to be collected by 2pm on 31st October.

Any remaining medications will then be collected and returned to the surgery.

We would like to inform our patients that The Alresford Surgery is unable to continue to provide a medication delivery service beyond Friday, 31st October 2025.

We have proudly provided this service for many years, and the decision to discontinue it has been made with great care and consideration. A number of factors, including financial challenges, have led us to this difficult conclusion. Regrettably, it is no longer sustainable for the practice to continue offering this service.

☐ Alternative Options Available

☐ Collect from the surgery dispensary

You are welcome to collect your medication in person from our dispensary.

☐ Nominate someone to collect on your behalf

A trusted friend, family member or carer can collect prescriptions on your behalf.

Many local pharmacies offer their own delivery services. Please contact your preferred pharmacy to check availability.

☐ Use an online pharmacy

There are a range of NHS-approved online pharmacy services that offer convenient home delivery.

We sincerely apologise for any inconvenience this change may cause and appreciate your understanding as we continue to focus on delivering safe and sustainable care for all our patients.

Thank you for your understanding and continued support.

Reminder - Afternoon Closure – Tuesday 14th October

The surgery and dispensary will be closed from 12.30pm to enable all GPs & Nurses to attend a compulsory training meeting this afternoon.

Jackie's County Corner

Unitaries-what happens next?

Hampshire's final proposals for the new Unitary Authority boundaries were discussed at the September County Council meeting, and these have now been submitted to the Government for consideration, alongside those from every district, Portsmouth and Southampton, and the Isle of Wight. The next step is that the Government considers those options put forward by every authority in Hampshire, decides which are the best options, and sends those options back out to you, Hampshire's residents and organisations, for another consultation.

Many people ask what happens next? There will be elections for Mayor of the combined authorities of Hampshire, and for county councillors and city councillors in May 2026, but Councillors for Unitary authorities will not be elected until 2027.

Bus route changes

When the county council received Bus Service Improvement Funding from central Government, the Executive councillors at Hampshire County Council chose to fund improvements to the bus services to achieve increased uptake on the major bus routes.

But as a result, we have seen a number of bus routes disappear completely. Thankfully most buses in this division have remained, some even improved, but I am continuing to canvass views (with a new route or extra stops?) for the 67 and what buses could work for the Micheldever area: if you have any views, please let me know.

It begins to feel that Hampshire is starting to draw to a close as an authority. Costs of statutory services such as SEND education and transport and older persons' care are high, and there is evidence that the county is gradually dropping all but essential services.

- I am sorry to say that new requests to support No Cold Calling Zones have been refused: this HCC service has now closed. There is a 'Buy with confidence' scheme. If a company ignores a request not to call, you can report it to the Citizens Advice Consumer Service. Call 0808 223 1133
- Similarly, traffic regulation orders for yellow lines etc are regularly taking well over 12 months to process. I know that this is frustrating for residents and businesses alike.
- I was appalled to hear from a resident that 'no parking white lines' on the road outside their drive could only be considered if a non-refundable fee request for over £100 was submitted. Has this affected you too?
- Unfortunately, the popular HCC Members Grants Scheme for charities was stopped for this 25/26 year, and seems unlikely to be reinstated. Some have already asked me about this, but I'm dreadfully sorry; I will not be able to help small charities at this time.
- All road works seem to be on a long wait time- whether to fix a pothole or install a new crossing.
- There is no longer a Zero Carbon team.

This is such a sad state of affairs; thank goodness for local highlights such as the Alresford show! I hope that many of you enjoyed the day too.
County Councillor Jackie Porter, tel: 07973 696 085, email Jackie.porter@hants.gov.uk

On the Farm— Ben Robinson

I write after a largely successful Alresford Show. The weather was kind, and the crowds came in their thousands. A freak accident which led to a horse be euthanised in the Main Ring meant the day was tinged with sadness, however the professionalism of the on-call vets and HH staff in dealing with the incident was much appreciated. The new livestock layout was very well received by all exhibitors and will hopefully be a springboard for future growth in this area of the show. The machinery both old and new was once again spectacular. The Alresford Show, unlike many others, is still known as a place where farmers do business which means machinery dealers are happy to invest in their excellent stands.

As Livestock Chairman may I extend my thanks to all those who help make the show what it is, all the volunteers, the trade businesses, the exhibitors and of course those who come for a day out. It is a wonderful day which really demonstrates the very best of our part of England.

On the farm we have recently spread digestate slurry from a local anaerobic digestion plant on the stubble turnip ground and grassland. This will aid the growth of these crops going into winter and is a significantly cheaper and more environmentally friendly option than buying manufactured fertiliser. Now the rain has begun to fall we will hopefully build up a bit of forage before winter, having had such a deficit during the exceptionally dry summer.

This week we have tried sending some fit lambs' 'deadweight' ie. Straight to the abattoir rather than through the livestock market. I normally sell 'live' however it is good not to put all your eggs in one basket. If you want a heated debate among a room of sheep farmers, ask them if it is better to sell 'live' or 'dead'. Some maintain deadweight is more efficient and you get a better price going direct, others that you must 'sell live to thrive' and we should all sell live to encourage competition for the good of the industry. In reality there is a bit of truth in both stances, it slightly depends on the type of lambs you have to sell, the area of the country you are in, and whether you are selling into a rising or falling trade. I sell down both routes. If the sheep market was controlled by an oligopoly of big slaughterhouses rather than driven by competition in markets both farmers and the consumer would be worse off. This scenario can be seen in the USA, Ireland, and many other countries without strong livestock markets. However, I confess the extra £5/head you sometimes make deadweight is occasionally enough to tempt a direct sale.

We have kept more of our ewe lambs this year, meaning around 1250 females will be going to the rams in three weeks' time. With expansion comes challenges and we will have to lamb more outside this year. If winter 2025-26 can happen in the winter months and not in spring that would be much appreciated.
